Jiyeon Seo

sjyremi@gmail.com

Summary

Result-oriented Product Specialist with professional experience in the mobile gaming industry, including Friends Town and Friends Popcorn. Proven track record of designing engaging game mechanics and optimizing level balancing through data-driven insights.
Demonstrated leadership as a Student Representative and recipient of the Student of the Year award.

Education and Qualifications

BA Computer Game Design – George Mason University, USA Feb 2021 - Present

- GPA: 3.5/4.0
- Student Representative (President), Department of Game Design
- Founded and led a game development club to foster a collaborative project environment.

Honors and Awards

Student of the Year Award 2022

- Selected by a university-wide student vote in recognition of exceptional leadership, communication, and contributions to the campus community.

Professional Experience

Metabora / Product Specialist / King Studio / Pangyo Apr 2023 - Aug 2026

Core Mechanic & Feature Design

- Conceptualized and implemented various in-game mechanics by coordinating with Art, Engineering, and Animation teams.
- Iterated on mechanics based on user feedback, prioritizing responsive and innovative features for high-level players to ensure a seamless gameplay.

Level Design & Monetization (Stage Production)

- Designed individual game stages with a strategic difficulty curve to maximize user engagement.
- Optimized stage distribution to strategically drive IAP conversion rates and player retention.
- Collaborated with engineers to build an automated balancing tool, streamlining raw data to focus on Retention & Metrics analysis.

Product Management & Analysis

- Project ‘Friends Town’: Led the full product cycle, including thematic content planning, object interaction tables, user progression paths
- Project ‘Friends Popcorn’: Analyzed key metrics, deriving insights, and planning user tests to optimize performance during collaborations with Crayon Shin-chan.